"Bargain Basement" Botox May Not Be Your Best Value

Despite rising product costs, Skin Rejuvenation Clinic is proud to offer our clients the same Botox price as we did when we opened our doors five years ago, $13 per unit. This allows us to stay competitive in the Twin Cities area. Although some practices may boast of low prices, we encourage all patients and non-patients alike to note the following before choosing a Botox injector:

- 1) Find out who is injecting the product. Some clinics have nurses, mid-level providers and other medical staff administering Botox. Skin Rejuvenation Clinic recommends and follows the practice that all injectables be administered by a skilled physician,
- 2) Make certain the injector has experience. Just because the injector is a physician does not mean they are a skilled Botox provider. Some physicians inject just a small handful of patients per year. According to statistics from the American Society for Aesthetic Plastic Surgery, in 2008 Dr. Beth and Dr. Mark had nearly double the amount of Botox patient visits when compared to the national average!
- 3) Investigate hidden fees. Some practices offer a low Botox unit rate, but then charge an injector fee or other type of service fee. Another strategy is to charge a low unit rate for the first area of your face, but then significantly raise the rate for each additional area or limit you to a certain number of units at a reduced rate.

We Now Offer ProLipo Plus Laser-Assisted Liposuction

ProLipo laser-assisted liposuction is now ProLipo Plus laser-assisted liposuction! The slight name change means patients receive the same superior results, fat elimination and skin tightening, but now with less time on the treatment table. ProLipo Plus is a higher powered lipolysis system for melting unwanted fat and tightening tissue resulting in a slimmer, trimmer body.
